

Surprised Collyries

A surprising political document made its appearance during the past week in the formal withdrawal by the Essex County Republican Committee of the application for a hearing on Assembly bill No. 422. The following is a copy of the letter:

Newark, N. J., March 19, 1906.
Honorable Randolph Perkins, Chairman of the Judiciary Committee, House of Assembly, Trenton, N. J.
DEAR SIR: Your letter of the 15th instant addressed to Mr. Frederick B.
Lehman, informing him that a public hearing on Assembly bill No. 422, known as the Redistricting Bill, will take place on Wednesday next, has been submitted by him to the undersigned, the members of the special committee appointed by the Republican County Committee of Essex county to submit plans for the redistricting of Essex county.

In reply, this committee would be pleased to state that Governor Stokes, in his message to the present Legislature, recommended the division of the State into Assembly districts as a fairer and more equitable system of representation of the people than the present county system. In pursuance of this recommendation the chairman of the Republican State Committee called upon the Republican County Committee of Essex county to submit plans dividing Essex county into Assembly districts.

The Republican County Committee at a meeting held on the fourth Friday of January, adopted a resolution endorsoring the position taken by the Governor and the Republican State organization on the question, and we were appointed a committee of five for the purpose of recommending lines for the division of Essex county. This committee had several sessions, and discussed suggestions and propositions from all interested in the matter. The Hon. William F. Martin, a member of the county committee, was present at the meeting when the above mentioned resolution was passed and voted for it.
No suggestions were received from any one, although the lines under consideration by this committee were furnished to Mr. Martin with a request to criticize the same and make any suggestions he might have to offer. The Assembly districts submitted by this committee were based on population according to the State census of 1905, contiguity of territory and similarity of interests.
The committee's report, showing the lines suggested, was printed and mailed to all the members of the county committee several days before the date of the meeting called for its consideration.

The county committee met on Thursday, March 1, in special meeting, for the purpose of hearing and acting upon the report of this committee. At this meeting, Mr. Gibson, acting as secretary, for the County people, for the first time presented other lines. No objection was made to the lines as reported by this committee, except that under them several of the present members of the Assembly from Essex county would be thrown into the same district, and therefore could not be re-elected.
This was true, however, in only two districts. Mr. Gibson urged that under this plan every one of the present members except one could be re-elected, and gave this as one of the reasons why it should be adopted. The county committee by an almost unanimous vote endorsed this committee's plan, and directed us to forward it to the chairman of the Republican State Committee, as requested by him. With these instructions this committee complied.

In formulating the lines, this committee had no object in view except a fair and honest division of the county. The question of re-election or re-election did not influence and should not have influenced us in our action.

The Republican party of Essex county last fall in its platform and on election day directed its representatives in the Legislature to legislate for equal representation, limited franchise and Passaic street partition in the interests of the people of the State.

The Republican organization of Essex county has no desire to inject into the Legislature a controversy which at the present would be only a factional one—for or against these lines. It takes the ground that having always stood for the best interests of the people and of the Republican party in Essex county, it cannot now afford to jeopardize those interests in any way.

This committee for the above reasons declines to inform you that it withdraws its request heretofore made for a hearing on Assembly bill No. 422, and requests the Legislature of the State of New Jersey to take such action as to them may seem just and wise.

We are, yours very truly,

IN HIGH LATITUDES.

Where You Can Read Late at Night Without Artificial Light.

I have, on the Limford, in Denmark, latitude 57 degrees, read the newspaper in my bedroom at 10:20 p. m. without the aid of a candle. While I read the villagers played skittles in the alley under my window, and beyond the hoary chestnut trees of the garden, with clots of starlings on their bare top boughs, the sky was still crimson, and gold in the west, with the long, woolly lines of vapor only just beginning to swathe the land like a blanket. On the other side of the inn the traffic was as vigorous then as at noonday. Carriers' carts creaked up to the door, and dry loads of squeaking pigs made other music than the lark's. Double chaises, with cushions of red or green velvet and half a dozen happy villagers to each (the men all with great china bearded pipes in their mouths), swung lazily by, raising a dust, and the lowing of troubled cows and calves came as much from the road as from the limbly meadow beyond attached to the historical old manor house (now a mere dairy farm), whose buildings were quite concealed by the tall trees that griddle them.

The inn damsel, sewing girls, kitchen maids, the daughters of the house, a friend or two had now set aside all the cares of the day and were rolling each other about on the dewy grass under the chestnut trees like so many lamplings, and the landlady with the immeasurable waist, who by day held all the malks leashed to their respective tasks with inflexible yet not unkind severity, stood in the doorway, with her fat bearded fingers in her yielding sides and disturbed the starlings periodically with her stentorian peals of laughter at the antics of her dependents. Yet at 5 o'clock the next morning, with her own madamantine hand, she will pull the bellows that shall wake each lass, and by 6 the establishment will be again in a normal state of activity. As for the worthy landlady, he is hayingmaking until 11 p. m., and it will be odd if he is not up before his dame wakes every soul in the house with her call bell.—Cornhill Magazine.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh, being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

The Top of the Alligator.

A great alligator, in Florida, according to the Cleveland Leader, is the tip of an alligator's tail. It tastes like frog's legs, though a bit more gummy. Alligator tails are best just after the ricebird season. The big alligators float in the water with only their eyes showing. When they see a flock of these fat, juicy little birds they dive to the bottom. Their long, wide snout scoops up some of the loam, and they float to the surface again, just the rich soil showing. The birds think it is a tail. They alight upon it. When the whole family is there the big reptile turns suddenly. Just as the birds scramble off he opens his mouth once. They are gone. The birds are not little feeders, and the alligator is an epicure at this time of the year. The ricebird diet makes the tip of his tail, of which he is most vain, tender and sweet.
